ARRIVAL OF THE COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

"THE VIADUCT"

The first edition of the the Viaduct was co-published by the Elkridge Business & Professional Association and the Elkridge Community Association in September 1987. The paper was printed by HoCoMo Freddies Trading Post and was delivered for distribution to the AI Fiberglass. Volunteers delivered them to all residents and businesses in the area. This proved to be an enormous and time consuming task, but was achieved. This method of circulation continued for the first six editions of the paper (through November 1988).

From November 1988 until April 1989 a process of reorganization was taking place. The Community Association assumed the duty of continuing the publication of the Viaduct. During the period of time incorporation papers were filed and Gapp, Inc. was obtained to layout the paper and submit to the printer. The edition was hand distributed as previously. Starting with the June edition every resident in the first election district was to receive a copy via mail. Thus "bridging the gap" was finally achieved, but not without volunteers and the support of the advertisers.

County Exec's Golf Course – A Stroke of Genius?

by Ed Huber

The population growth in Elkridge in recent years has been obvious to all of us who live here. From about 8,000 people in 1980 we inworking farms, rural housing and extensive woodlands. It was a remarkable environmental resource in the midst of the megalopolitan corridor between Baltimore and Washington. While much has changed,

Elkridge Community
Association, Inc.

THANKS seems such a little word for so much; however, I wish to use this means to relay it to many.

The Elkridge Business and Professional Association (EBPA) helped to initiate and co-publish the first six issues of The Viaduct. During the last four months, The Viaduct has been reorganized and will continue to be published by the Elkridge Community Association, Inc. (ECA).

Hats off to our advertisers! The cost of printing and distribution of 10,000 papers is made possible through their support. Pay special attention to our advertisers and patronize and support them whenever you need the products or services they offer.

Without volunteers, it would not have been possible to publish the paper. Reporting, photographing, copywriting, advertising sales, organizations and articles encompassing past, present and future have been supplied by volunteers.

My sincere thanks to all the advertisers and volunteers for their interest and support.

For the next issue, which is scheduled to be published in mid-June, advertisers and volunteers who were missed and would like to be included, be assured that your participation is welcomed and needed.

"Without volunteers, it would not have been possible to publish the paper."

Send your name, address and telephone number to The Viaduct (at the end of this article) and indicate when it would be convenient for someone to contact you.

On behalf of the residents of the First Election District who are receiving The Viaduct, I can't close without saying "thanks" to those who have made it possible and to those who will continue to help in many ways.

If you wish to volunteer your support to The Viaduct, or would like to place an advertisement, write to:

Dear Phil,

As you know, The Viaduct newspaper is no longer being published, and has not run since August 2005. We regret the demise of this wonderful community newspaper; however, with escalating costs of production and postage, and being run solely by volunteers, it became extremely difficult to continue publishing.

The enclosed check represents the "leftover" funds from the operating expenses of the paper. We have chosen the Elkridge Food Pantry as a recipient of these monies as a donation for all of the wonderful work that your mission does to take care of our less fortunate friends and neighbors. Please accept this check on behalf of all the wonderful people that so tirelessly worked for so many years to bring The Viaduct to life, especially (but not limited to) Ed Huber, Polly Thornton, Ellen Schultz, Lou Ann Prosack, and Rita Chelton, who were those that stuck with the process to the very end.

From its inception in 1987 to its final publication, The Viaduct served as an invaluable communication tool for the greater Elkridge community. We hope this donation helps continue that spirit of community and hope that your organization brings to others.
